Kathleen Kalinowski's vibrant landscapes in pastel and oil have a style of painterly realism which is both timeless and original. She is passionate about painting directly from nature, en plein air, to accurately capture the color and quality of light, shadow and movement. Her paintings are sought by collectors, who value her vision, dedication, and the passion which make her work unique.

Kathleen teaches painting classes at the Frederick Meijer Gardens and Sculpture Park in Grand Rapids. She is a Signature Member of the Pastel Society of America.
